FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*NEWPARK RESOURCES CLOSES ACQUISITION OF RHEOCHEM PLC'S DRILLING FLUIDS BUSINESS

THE WOODLANDS, TX — April 21, 2011 — Newpark Resources, Inc. (NYSE: NR) today announced the closing of the acquisition of Australian-based Rheochem PLC's drilling fluids and engineering services business, effective April 21, 2011. The acquired business provides drilling fluids and engineering services to the oil and gas exploration and geothermal industries with operations in Australia, New Zealand and India. Newpark paid AUD $23.8 million in cash at closing, subject to typical future adjustments for working capital. Additional consideration may be payable based on financial results of the acquired business over a one-year earn-out period, up to a maximum total consideration of AUD $45 million.

Paul Howes, Newpark's President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "We are extremely pleased to complete this acquisition, which gives us an important footprint in the growing Asia Pacific region and supports the continued global expansion of our drilling fluids operations. As stated previously, we are also acquiring the Rheochem brand name, which is well recognized in the Far East, and will continue to operate under that name. We see the potential to introduce our technology to new customers and gain exposure to growing LNG activity in Australia, while also gaining knowledge from Rheochem's expertise in geothermal fluids. Rheochem is a natural fit with Newpark as both companies share the commitment to provide operators with best-in-class drilling fluids and engineering services."
